TWO BRANDS OF JUSTICE

No one expected the Moscow bolsheviks to like the verdict of guilty returned by the federal court jury in the case of the 11
communist leaders. Communism has suffered a setback because these Americans have been convicted of conspiracy to teach and advocate the forcible overthrow of the United States government.
The Moscow plotters see that.

They are therefore attempting frantically to offset the effects by making the usual charges. Washington, according to the Russian press, wanted to get these men out of the way in order to carry out its program of "war and reaction." The defendants are therefore heroes and martyrs,
victims of the "reactionary character of American justice." The trial was a frameup and Americans have "cynically trampled down the last remnants" of the Constitution.

The Russians' pretense of concern for the Constitution is evidence of a resentment so deep that it has affected their judgment. For they care about as much for that document as they do for their blandishments which impressed
Roosevelt during the war.

The same newspapers that published Pravda's discussion of the New York trial carried a sickening description of communist justice in Czechoslovakia — the one time republic that was to be free, but has become a Russian puppet. Since October 3, when the Czech government started on a program to eliminate the middle class, more than 10,000 persons have been arrested and thrown into prison. The list contains 40-600 additional names.

These victims are arrested
without warrants, tried behind closed doors without benefit of legal counsel, convicted by tribunals that may or may not listen to the evidence, and sentenced to labor camps or mines. The charge may vary but the crime is membership in the bourgeois class and the guilty cannot appeal.

A perfume has been extracted from coffee. Whether it keeps the smellier awake isn't revealed.

British Tories suggest that the English people work harder. And risk a reduction in United States
"loans."

It formerly was said the hardest thing to understand was the Einstein theory. That was before government bureaus started making so many regulations.

British are reported to be worrying about how the country will get along when Uncle Sam stops sending money. Americans are worrying about when that will be.

Speaking of long range offensives, the August sun is currently supplying quite a notable example.

What is a capitalist? ask an exchange. He's the guy who got us into all the trouble by making the country prosperous.

"Let's Look at The Record!"

"A MORE BEAUTIFUL BRISTOL"

1945 Campaign Promises

In his various campaign messages four years ago, Burgess Schmidt pledged the Republican candidates' support to all movements for improving the general appearance of the community.

"There is only one way ever to have a Beautiful Bristol," he said, "and that is for everyone to make it his business to keep in order whatever part of it for which he may be responsible." He promised that the Borough government would set the example.

Record of Performance

Again, even more has been accomplished than the campaign pledges promised. Throughout the Borough, there has been a clean-up—paint-up movement, coupled with building programs, that have immensely improved the appearance of the community. About half of Mill Street has been rebuilt or redecorated since the war, and the same is true of nearly all other parts of the Borough. Here are some of the ways in which the Borough has set a good example under the Republican Administration:

- a. Renovation and repainting of Municipal Hall.
- b. Weed cutting program on vacant lots.
- c. Repainting and clean-up of all Borough owned property.
- d. A street-lighting program (under the Street and Highway Committee) that has added dozens of lights, and enlarged the candle-power of the others.
- e. Considerable progress on a plan to beautify the Western entrance to the Borough—the old Route 13 highway from Rohm & Haas to Mill street.

"RECREATION"

Record of Performance

Here again, a great deal more has actually been accomplished by the Republican Administration than was promised in the 1945 campaign:

- a. Repairs, a clean-up program, and new roads made Silver Lake again accessible for recreation purposes.
- b. Regular stocks of game- and pan-fish have been put into this lake for Bristol's anglers.
- c. A bathing beach was laid out, together with life-guard service, at Silver Lake.
- d. In addition, the Borough received as a gift, and now operates, a large athletic field and a children's playground, both of them under the new Bristol Recreation Board.

"ARTESIAN WELLWATER TO DRINK"

1945 Campaign Promises

In August of 1945, Burgess Schmidt promised early completion of two major enlargements to the Municipal Water plant, which, on the basis of pre-war water consumption here,
would have been enough to guarantee well
water for every home in Bristol.

Record of Performance

The new projects actually were completed
as promised. However, the rapid rise in industrial water consumption demanded by many new or enlarged mills in this area has compelled the Borough to continue pumping some river water, despite the much larger well-water supply. Here is the record:

- a. Edgely pumping plant put in operation in the Fall of 1945. Last Spring an additional unit of two pumps was installed.
- b. Bath road pumps began operating in 1946. Last June an additional pumping unit was installed.
- c. The perfect safety record of Bristol water continues—not a single case on record of disease due to impurities in the municipal water supply.
- d. The water system continues to earn for the Borough an annual profit which saves the taxpayers at least seven mills on their tax rate.

"KEEP TAX RATE LOW"

Record of Performance

Here again the promise has been fully kept.
The Borough tax rate has risen only slightly,
despite the big jump in costs and wages since 1945. Moreover, the Borough has continued to operate on a pay-as-you-go basis for everything except one bond issue in 1947 for capital improvements. Both tax rate and bonded debt are low for a community this size.

MR. AND MRS. VOTER, WHAT DO YOU THINK?

There's been lots of kidding, from time to time, about political platforms. Sometimes it is said they are like train platforms—something you use to get aboard, and forget about afterwards.

BUT HERE IS A POLITICAL PLATFORM THAT WASN'T FORGOTTEN.
WHAT THE REPUBLICANS PROMISED BRISTOL IN 1945 IS JUST WHAT THEY CAN PROUDLY SAY, IN 1949, THAT THEY HAVE ACCOMPLISHED!
DOESN'T THAT ENTITLE THE REPUBLICAN CANDIDATES TO YOUR SUPPORT ON NOVEMBER 8?

WHY BREAK UP A WINNING TEAM?

VOTE REPUBLICAN! VOTE STRAIGHT REPUBLICAN!

Be sure to go to the polls on November 8. When you get your ballot, look for the word Republican in heavy black type, and put a cross after it, thus:

REPUBLICAN

Older Child Who Sucks Thumb

By GARRY CLEVELAND MYERS, Ph.D.

MOST babies and young children suck their thumbs or fingers sometimes. While the practice disappears very early in the average child, it persists even after entering school with an occasional child. When it continues beyond the second or third year it is likely to become a serious personality problem, as it is sure to suggest to other children and adults
a lag in growing up and to invoke nagging by the parents and other relatives.

How much harm thumb-sucking
can do to the child's teeth and mouth is a disputed matter. Some published studies of a few young children over rather limited periods, by dental experts conclude that there can be very little or no physical harm. Yet many hundreds of children with malformed teeth and jaws
and mouth have these irregularities corrected by the dental specialist (orthodontist) by means of slow gradual mechanical pressure. It is difficult to understand why the slow pressure of a thumb, when it is so constant as with some youngsters,
could not also provide enough pressure to malform the teeth, jaws and roof of the mouth.

Less Anxious

However, for most mothers to believe thumb-sucking can do no harm to any portion of the mouth is wholesome, no doubt, as this belief renders mothers less anxious about the matter and, therefore, less prone to provoke the habit with emotion-laden treatment of the thumb-sucking youngster.

One fact is pretty apparent to any careful observer; that the more the parents are wrought up over thumb-sucking the more sure they are to cause the child to increase the practice, the more ready these parents are to jerk the thumb from the youngster's mouth, to shame, scold or even slap him for having the thumb or fingers in his mouth.

As I have often said in this column, punishment of any sort, of the young child, hardly can be effective unless it is immediate and without exception. As you can see, such a rule is impossible to follow with thumb-sucking. Besides, as thumb-sucking is nearly always a solacing activity, most frequent when the child is weary, hungry or out of sorts, any kind of chastisement merely tends to make the child more ready to turn to the usual comfort of sucking his thumb.

Vague Feeling

In the young infant thumb-sucking may begin because of hunger or discomfort after taking food, or from a vague feeling of tenseness and insecurity. Guidance by the physician may be helpful. Certainly more poise in the mother and more tenderness and normal show of affection by her to the youngster should be good. The older the child
the more powerful these psychological factors are.

My bulletins, "Thumb-sucking"
and "The Nervous Child" may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope to me in care of this paper.

In some few instances thumb-sucking disappears after obstructions in the nasal passages have been removed. Simple devices, like a sheath made of rough cloth fastened around the offending thumb,
sometimes work in case the child ob-scurely. But any device which stir up resistance in the child do more harm than good. Most mothers would do well to blind themselves to the habit and center their whole attention on a long corrective period of more family serenity, more affection to the child and more ways to make him feel emotionally secure.

re-election, and all other Republican candidates were presented by State Senator Edward B. Watson.

District Attorney Curtin addressed the Council on "What The Republican Party Needs."

He told the ladies that the most important factor is "to have the courage to stand on its own feet and its own convictions; to stand up for the things that have made the Republican party great. The Republican Party, he said, has been to willing in recent years to 'out-liberal' the liberals. We cannot be wishy-washy in things we stand for. The Republican must stand for the principles that will bring us out of the slump."

"One thing the Republican Party needs is a good propagandist more than anything else. Last year we allowed the opposition party to get away with blaming everything on the 81st Congress instead of the individual who was to blame, and before that we allowed the opposition to blame everything on a Republican President instead of Congress."

"We have stood by in a fashion that labor in many instances has been made to believe that the Republican Party is against labor, when such a thing is far from the truth."

District Attorney Curtin also emphasized the importance of getting out a large Republican majority for the local candidates.

"We must be more confident of our principles. The time has come when it is necessary for us to get across the idea that sound economy is necessary for the return of good government."

The meeting was presided over by Mrs. Norman W. Lear, of Doylestown, president of the Council, who announced that the next meeting of the Council will be held at Quakertown, on December 9, at the Moose Home.

Senator Watson stressed the importance of electing a solid Republican ticket in all local offices in the county.

Mrs. A. Oscar Martin, of Doylestown, chairman of the Council's membership committee, announced that Mrs. John Force, of Yardley, had increased the membership in the Council in that area alone to 115—35 new members this year.

Others presented by Mrs. Lear included Mrs. Ada Buckman, of Langhorne, vice chairman of the County Republican Committee; Mrs. Mary Ancker, of Bristol, honorary president of the Council.

Judge Hiram H. Keller, who is a candidate on both the Republican and Democrat tickets for re-election; and Judge Fred W. Davis, of Stroudsburg, a guest, were also presented.

Mrs. Lear announced that the delegates to the State Council convention will be Mrs. Richard Cooper, of Pineville; Mrs. Burton Benner, of Newtown, and herself as president of the Council. She also introduced Mrs. Mary Dunn, as president of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Bucks County Council of Republican Women.

Mrs. J. P. Perry, Furlong, chairman of the legislative committee presented Mrs. Edward W. Beele, of Holicong, who explained the several proposed amendments to the State constitution that will come before the voters in November.

The Republican county candidates were presented as follows:

For Judge: Hiram H. Keller; Recorder of Deeds, J. Hart Jamison; Prothonotary, Joseph A. Keating; Sheriff, Harry H. Ross; District Attorney, Willard S. Curtin; County Controller, Howard G. Krupp; Jury Commissioner, J. Robert Hendricks.

Judge Edward G. Biester, recently appointed to the bench, was also a guest of the Council.

Fire Chief Walter H. Wolf reported a survey of pressure tests made during September. The results now await the fire underwriters who will make additional tests to determine whether or not the town's water pressure is great enough to meet every fire emergency.

Langhorne Sorosis Hears Miss Anna Wright

LANGHORNE, Oct. 21 — Many members and guests of Langhorne Sorosis gathered in Langhorne library yesterday afternoon to hear Miss Ann Wright, superintendent of district three schools in Philadelphia, tell what, in her opinion, constitutes a good school.

A good school, Miss Wright believes, is one that gives the child the following: a feeling of security; cooperative living and learning within the school society; development in the pupil of ability for taking responsibility for self-direction; sense of values; opportunity for social action.

From the experience she has acquired from her work in a district

SUNDAY DINNER Suggestions

HOUSEWIVES anxious to achieve greater variety in their meals, without sacrificing economy or quality, will find a fine source of supply among those dishes preferred by various nationalities. Countless blends of flavors and little-thought-of food combinations abound among these people.

One of these, the familiar Hungarian Goulash, takes on new flavor and goodness when prepared according to the original recipe. This menu, carefully planned by the A & P Service for Homemakers, practically guarantees success.

Bearing in mind that long, slow simmering is the secret of good goulash, the cook should not hurry this meal. Brown one pound of beef cut into one-inch cubes and one pound of veal cut into one-inch cubes in two tablespoons of drippings. Add one large onion, sliced, one teaspoon of salt, one-fourth teaspoon of pepper, one-half teaspoon of paprika, one-half bay leaf, one-half teaspoon of powdered marjoram, four medium potatoes, four medium carrots cut crosswise, four small turnips, one green pepper cut fine and two cups of water. This will provide six ample helpings.

Cover tightly and let simmer over a low flame for about two hours. Then serve with tossed green salad and endive, biscuits, and appropriate beverage. For dessert try Apple Betty with cream.

of 30,000 pupils, Miss Wright discussed each of the qualifications, and answered questions from her appreciative audience. She was introduced by Mrs. Edwin Laning, co-chairman of the committee on education.

A "little flower show" was conducted, the following being winners: 1st, Mrs. Donald Huntsberger, yellow vase of yellow chrysanthemums and dog-wood leaves; 2nd, Mrs. Horace Townsend, red bowl of red and white roses; 3rd, Mrs. Lester Ransom, blue bowl of autumn flowers in red, white and blue shades.

Hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. William Reeder and Mrs. Cleon Pannepacker. Tea was in charge of Mrs. Edwin Dassalet and Miss Caroline Briggs.

Announcement was made of a thrift sale for benefit of the library on Oct. 27th and 28th; and solicitation for funds for the Girl Scout organization beginning October 24th and continuing for two weeks. The house committee members will gather at the home of Mrs.

Pierce Fabian, Nov. 9th, at 10:30 a. m., with box lunches scheduled. The president, Mrs. Horace Townsend, stated that the meeting on Nov. 3rd, will be in charge of the book club, with a book review and display of the last flowers of the season scheduled.

Brushes You Need for Beauty

Courtesy Tel-Hughes, Inc.
This tiny clothes brush is one of a trio that comes in a pocket-size kit. The other items are a miniature hair brush and a comb. Nice for traveling.

By HELEN FOLLETT

IT is the duty of every woman, young, old or betwixt-and-between, to keep in tip-top form, to look as well as she possibly can, not only for her own sake, and for self respect, but for the sake of those who come in contact with her.

She must have numerous beautifying accoutrements and, among these items, she will need a number of brushes. To buy the best is to save money in the long run. The brushes must be strong so that they will not bend or weaken when moistened.

Two hair brushes are necessary. How often have you shampooed your hair, only to find, when the last rinsing was finished, that you had forgotten to wash the brush? While doing that little chore your tresses are dripping. With two at hand, one is always clean. After washing them, place the bristles downward so the water will not soak into the back.

There is the hand brush that gives good service. It not only hastens the hand washing project, but it serves as a massage agent on the nails. Nails thrive under friction; it stimulates the underlying blood streams that give your coral talons coloring.

If you haven't a high grade bath brush in your good looks equipment you are missing out on something. To leap into the tub or stand under a shower and trust to a soapy wash cloth for a first-class clean up job is to be deceived. The entire body surface is burdened with dead skin scales to which the chemicals exuded by the sweat glands cling and produce an unpleasant odor. Only scouring with plenty of elbow grease will free the flesh of cutaneous debris.

Be sure to have a clothes brush on hand, too, and give your outfit a last-minute going over before leaving the house.

Suggests Meaty Soup For Satisfying Dish

Soup made with a meat base is a favorite among many, but simply by adding cubes of cooked meat during heating time, other soups are quickly given a flavorful filling touch, according to Reba Stiles, home economist.

With meat added, many soups are appropriate for serving as the main course of a meal, too. For example, plentiful cubes of left-over beef may be added to mixed vegetable soup for a satisfying dish. Rich bean soup is delightfully combined with bits of cooked ham. Ready-to-serve frankfurters cut into bite-sized slices turn split pea soup into a main course treat. Still another tasty meat-soup combination is corn chowder seasoned with savory smoked pork.

Old-fashioned cream of potato soup, popular in many homes, takes on new interest with diced crisp bacon sprinkled over the top rather than being cooked with the soup. By including crackers or toast tips, a vegetable salad, beverage and dessert, the lunch is complete.

Today's Quiet Moment

By the Rev. John C. Kulp
Pastor
Hulmeville Methodist Church

One afternoon I was working inside in a dim light. My eyes easily adjusted to the dimness and before long I hardly realized I didn't have all the light I might have had. I knew, however, that I should have had better light. When the job was done, I left the semi-darkness and went right outside into the intensely bright afternoon sunlight. My eyes ached and pained and my head throbbed. It was some time before I could see without squinting. But how much easier it was to see and work in full light. We always find it easy to "adjust" to the dimness of sinning and waywardness. We hush up our consciences by some vain promise of reforming or of asking for divine forgiveness. All the while, we are groping in darkness; falling into this pit and that trap; stumbling here and tripping there; hitting a stone wall here and running into a blind alley there. Then when we first turn to God and walk in the light of Jesus, the Light of the world who "lighteth every man his way," we at first feel the pain of the glory of His light. We should expect some pain at first in denying ourselves the dim "pleasure" of riotous or slanderous or tyrannical habits. But before long, when we have become accustomed to walking in the light of Christ, we find far greater pleasure and safety than we dreamed of. We find intense satisfaction and learn to cherish the light in which "there is no cause for stumbling." "Walk in the light and thou shalt own thy darkness passed away, because that light hath on thee shone, in which is perfect day."

Two Are Arrested For Burglarizing Homes

Charged with burglarizing the summer home of Mrs. Margaret Taylor, of East Oakland avenue, on Cuttles road, Solisbury township, two persons have been arrested by State Police of the Doylestown sub-station and committed to the Bucks County Prison for a further hearing.

They are Edwin Good, 22, of Mechanics street, New Hope, and Chester Lear, 23, of 123 Brunswick avenue, Lambertville, N. J.

After a further investigation they will be given a hearing before Justice of the Peace William Wrigley, at Edison.

Trooper Bolester Wojciechowiec, of the Doylestown sub-station, arrested the two men, after a checkup of antique shops along the Old York road and in New Hope, in search of several antiques stolen from Mrs. Taylor's summer home.

Trooper Wojciechowiec said that the two accused men admitted stealing the articles and breaking in the house on the morning of October 15 about 10:30. The articles stolen were valued at approximately $125.

vertising executive, gave information on P. T. A. activities at Langhorne. He stated that people are now facing a severe crisis. "Schools all over the United States are overflowing. There is great need for proper education facilities." Turning his attention again to P. T. A. work he added that P. T. A. must get people out to meetings and get them acquainted with each other. He told that Langhorne association uses an alarm clock for timing subjects.

"P. T. A. means closer communication between people. People can do nothing individually, but collectively they are a powerful voice," Mr. Weir was accompanied to the meeting by Mrs. Weir.

At the beginning of the session there was a moment of silent prayer, followed by group songs led by Herman Encke, and accompanied by accordionists Foster Davis and Dennis Brady, of the eighth grade.

The selections were "Daisy Belle" and "Old Folks at Home." The two boys then gave a duet "Cruising Down the River."

New officers introduced were: the president, Mr. Barnhurst; 1st and 2nd vice presidents, respectively, Mrs. Robert Hoff and F. B. Hege; secretary, J. E. Messinger; treasurer, William Williams. The latter two gave their reports.

John Kolesor reported for the program committee, and mentioned suitable methods for selecting projects for the organization. In order of preference he listed: Elementary school — library books, radios, safety patrol attire, play equipment; high school — dramatic club contributions, library books, contribution to protective fund association. Other suggestions were: parents' lending library, decorating of teachers' rooms. Fifty per cent of the treasury balance has been voted to the committee to use for certain projects.

Miss Ruth Bowers' second grade received the attendance banner. Mrs. Wilfred Foullette was appointed chairman of the committee to investigate possibility of securing Little Theatre presentations for Bensalem school. Another committee will investigate possibility of obtaining transportation for pupils to all school activities.

First door prize, a bouquet of flowers, went to Mrs. Barclay Baldwin. Other door prizes were two dinner tickets, and 10 sets of tickets for a theatre.

The members and guests were greeted at the door by F. B. Hege and Mrs. Herman Encke.

Distributing New Map Of Forests and Parks

HARRISBURG, Oct. 21 — A new map, "Pennsylvania's State Forests and Parks," was issued to the public today by the State Department of Forests and Waters.

The newest publication, printed, now in four colors, indicates the exact locations of State-owned forest lands, exclusive of game refuges and the State parks which come under the jurisdiction of the Department.

Symbols on the face of the map show the 150 forest fire towers which are used by the public as scenic look-outs, except during the dangerous Fall and Spring forest-fire-danger periods; the locations of State Parks, State Forest Picnic Areas, and Natural or Historical Parks and Monuments.

The back of the map provides a brief description of the larger and most popular parks and a description of how to reach the areas.

Distributed free of charge, the new map is another feature of the Department's participation in "Pennsylvania Week."

Golden Anniversary Is Reason for Celebration

MORRISVILLE, Oct. 21 — The 50th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Coon was marked Wednesday. The couple, who have made their home in this borough for 37 years, were wed at Bridesburg in 1899. They resided in Tullytown two years before coming to Morrisville.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Coon are members of Grace Methodist Church. Mrs. Coon is the former Miss Julia R. Haines, a native of Vineland, N. J. Her husband, who is employed at a Trenton, N. J., department store, was born in Philadelphia.

They have one daughter, Mrs. Robert Kruse, San Diego, Cal.; and two granddaughters.

JUNIOR RED CROSS STARTS CAMPAIGN

Sets Goal of Over 400,000
In Philadelphia and Nearby Counties

APPEALS FOR AID

With a goal of more than 400,000 members in Philadelphia and four surrounding counties, the annual Junior Red Cross enrollment campaign of the Southeastern Pennsylvania Chapter began October 1st. Dr. Henry J. Gideon, chairman, announced.

Part of a nationwide drive to recruit school pupils for Junior Red Cross activity, the campaign will seek to enroll more members to enable the organization to increase the scope of its program.

The local Red Cross Chapter enrolled 389,421 pupils in 792 public, private and parochial schools in the area last year. It was one of the largest Junior Red Cross units in the United States.

"This year the Junior Red Cross is concentrating even more of its energies in working toward world peace and international understanding," said Dr. Gideon, former director of Pupil Personnel and Counseling for the Philadelphia School District. "The organization will continue its program of national and community service," he added.

In addition to exchanging correspondence albums and school art with children of other nations, local Junior Red Cross members will launch a new program of sending recording of school music to schools abroad. They will continue to make contributions to the National Children's Fund and prepare gift boxes and school chests for children overseas.

The chapter's unit will seek to surpass the outstanding production record made during the 1948-49 school year. Philadelphia and suburban school children made a total of 163,000 toys, holiday decorations and favors which were sent to child care centers, settlement houses and civilian and veteran hospitals.

Overseas children also received thousands of text books, pencils, shoes, afghans and gallons of cod liver oil as gifts from local Junior Red Cross members.

Another feature of the chapter's Junior Red Cross program is the presentation of special film showings on international and intercultural subjects. Approximately 261,509 local youngsters saw the films last year and the number is expected to increase during this term. The Junior Red Cross program was begun during World War I. Dr. Gideon said, to assist in the production of supplies for servicemen.

It had 8,000,000 members in its first year, and during the 1948-49 term, 19,414,000 pupils were enrolled.

LISTS COMMON SIGNS SHOWING EYE TROUBLE

Tells How Children Act
When Eyes Need
Attention

ASKS COOPERATION

The Bucks County Branch, Pennsylvania Association for the Blind, calls attention to signs of eye trouble in children, as follows:

Behavior: Attempts to brush away blur, rubs eyes frequently; frowns. Shuts or covers one eye; tilts or thrusts head forward when looking at near or distant objects. Has difficulty in reading or in other work requiring close use of the eyes. Blinks more than usual; cries often or is irritable when doing close work. Stumbles or trips over small objects close to the eyes. Is unable to participate in games requiring distant vision. Is unduly sensitive to light.

Appearance: Crossed eyes, recurring sties, inflamed or watery eyes, red-rimmed, encrusted or swollen eyelids.

Complaints: Cannot see well. Dizziness, headaches, nausea following close work with the eyes. Blurred or doubled vision.

Want To Keep Your Youngsters Busy Hallow- E'en? Here's "Treat" Idea

Miniature spooks and goblins will be coming out of hiding October 31. Wherever these fun-loving figures gather, there's sure to be a joint demand for "tricks or treats."

For a treat in Hallowe'en party refreshment, serve spicy barbecued ground beef over big hamburger buns, suggests Reba Staggs, home economist. These tasty burgers are easily matched with potato chips and a cabbage salad. Hot cider, also, will brighten the witchy table that is appropriately decorated with mad-eyed pumpkins and wily black cats.

An easily served dessert to complete the bewitching menu is gingerbread baked as plump muffins topped with grated orange rind. Make up your favorite gingerbread recipe, bake the batter in greased muffin pans, then sprinkle orange rind over the top.

Or still another way to carry out October's colors in dessert is with chocolate cake. Bake the batter in cup cake form, then brilliantly cap each cake with orange-tinted confectioners' sugar icing. Chocolate chips may be used to make realistic faces on the top of the little cakes. Here is the recipe for the barbecued ground beef.

Barbecued Ground Beef
1 pound ground beef
1 tablespoon lard or drippings
1 cup finely chopped onion
1 cup finely chopped green pepper
1 tablespoon sugar
2 tablespoons prepared mustard
1 tablespoon vinegar
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup catchup
1/2 teaspoon ground cloves

Brown meat slowly until crumbly but not hard. Combine remaining ingredients and add to the meat.

Cover and simmer about 30 minutes. Serve on toasted split buns. Serves 6 to 8.

NEWS OF INTEREST TO PA. FARMERS

By John Harms

INS. Pennsylvania Farm Editor
HARRISBURG, Oct. 21 — Poultry experts today were on record with predictions that "by exercising reasonable care in production" there will be enough poultry for all at satisfactory prices to the farmer.

A panel of three industry spokesmen told delegates to the Northeast Poultry Producers' Council 12th annual exposition at Harrisburg that consumers' purchasing power would increase rather than drop "as our economy recovers further."

Harry Rick, member of the American farm bureau's national poultry committee, said "our poultry products are competitive with other products, especially with meats, and because of this it is entirely possible that poultry consumption should increase rather than decrease."

"By exercising reasonable caution in production, I feel we shall enjoy relative stability in our industry," he declared.

President Andrew Christie, of the International Baby Chick Association said "there is something more important than whether we sell any chickens next year — and that is the political situation in Washington, you tell me what the politicians are going to do, and I'll tell you what our industry's chances are."

He said the poultry industry has by no means reached the limit in poultry and egg consumption and predicted "an ever increasing demand for poultry meat and eggs."

"The long term trend of all prices is down, but with improved breeding, nutrition and management we in the poultry industry continue to maintain an advantageous position and continue to supply a better value to the consumer," according to Leslie S. Hubbard, of Lancaster, president of The National Poultry Producers Federation.

"We are subject to a considerable extent, to the agriculture support law which will be in effect in 1950," he said. "The poultry industry, unfortunately will have to take what the politicians give us."

"If we are under either the Aiken Law or the proposed Anderson Plan, turkeys and eggs will be supported at some point between zero and 90 per cent of parity. This is subject to the discretion of the Secretary of Agriculture," he declared.

The federal agriculture department reported that by late summer, the first hogs from the large spring pig crop began to hit the market. Larger meat supplies this fall are indicated by the 15-per cent increase in the spring pig crop and the 24 per cent increase in the number of cattle on feed August 1.

Hog prices will decline at least seasonally this fall—may hit supports at some time this fall and winter. Prices of cattle probably will decline, too, but not as much as hogs, the U.S.A.D. said.

Pays Fine; Charge Is Cruelty To Animals

NEW HOPE, Oct. 21 — A fine of $10 and costs of $6.95 were imposed upon George Landis, Perkaspie, R. D., who was charged with cruelty to animals. The hearing took place before Justice of the Peace Donald E. DeLacey, here. Landis pleaded guilty to the charge, which was preferred by Leroy Buchanan, agent for Bucks County S. P. C. A., upon complaint of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Green, Perkaspie, R. D. 3. Testimony was presented by Mrs. Green, whose home is near that of Landis. She stated that her dog had been on the Landis property, but that Landis never had told them to keep the dog off the property. It was on the morning of October 6th that Mrs. Green heard a shot, and a short time later she found the dog lying on a nearby property. Dr. Leonard R. Binswanger, a Gardenville veterinarian, was notified, and the dog, according to Mrs. Green, died the same day of hemorrhages. No defense was offered by Mr. Landis.

Sportsmen's Briefs

By JOE ELBERSON

Opens today . . . what is really one of the more important hunting seasons (although not so locally because of lack of cover and birds) opens in Pennsylvania today when ducks and geese become legal game for 1949.

The season officially opened at noon. For the balance of the season, through November 29, the shooting hours are one-half hour before sunrise to one hour before sunset. Daily limit on ducks is four, with not more than one wood duck, while the daily limit on geese is two.

Hunting methods permitted include use of shotgun not larger than 10-gauge, fired from the shoulder; bow and arrow; dog; blind or floating craft other than sinkbox, motorboat or sailboat.

Methods prohibited include hunting from automobile; aircraft; sinkbox, rifle; automatic-loading or hand-operated repeating shotgun of more than 3-shell capacity in magazine and chamber combined; live duck or geese decoys.

And, remember, too, you must have your Duck Stamp (obtainable from your Post Office) before hunting ducks or geese.

In neighboring state of New Jersey the season starts on November 18 and continues through December 27th.

Shoot . . . this Sunday, October 23, the Edgely Rod & Gun Club will conduct an open blackcock target shoot over its trap. The shoot, which will get underway at 1 P. M., is open to all shooters, and will afford some good practice for the small game season near at hand.

Wish it were so . . . some of my good friends who I always hope to meet (that never do) in my fishing jaunts along our attractive Canal in Bristol have been complaining that "all I seem to do is fish". Sorry I am to admit that such isn't so, although I can visualize the additional pleasures such a status quo would give me.

Frankly, though, I don't believe I would spend all my time in fishing the Canal. I think I could prevail on my good friends Roche & Hetherington to exercise with me our mutual interests in the appearance of the town by trimming some of the unsightly properties along the Canal . . . and if all that the three of us accomplished was to harvest the hayfield at the back of the Grand Theater, I know we would all have a pleasurable sigh of satisfaction.

Stocking . . . 2500 catfish and bream were placed in local waters on Monday of this week when a shipment arrived from the Fish Commission's Torresdale Hatchery. The Canal received 500 bream.

(from Bristol to New Hope): Maple Beach was stocked with 500 bream and 600 catfish; while Silver Lake received 1000 catfish. The catfish, all in fine condition, measured from 4 to 10 inches.

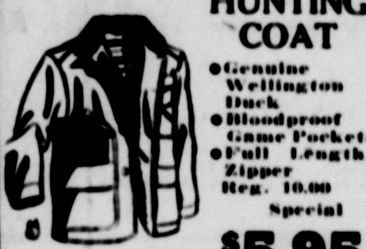

Fish Warden Harry Cole and members of the Bristol Fish & Game Protective Association were on hand to assist with the stocking.

Scores . . . H. Ely, Cornwells sharpshooter, was high scorer in the trap shoot held over the traps of the Newportville Rod & Gun Club last Sunday when he smashed 23 out of 25 birds. W. Doran and W. Sullivan tied for second honors with 22 each. A. Purvin and J. Farrell split for third place with scores of 18, while R. Henley and C. Conter each turned in a 17.
